- When the ball goes out, the two resting players immediately join to create a 3v1 and the attacker who last touch the ball before it going out of play becomes the sole defender, the remaining two sprint back to their baseline to prepare for next phase of play.

- After 2 rounds of play - becomes 3v2 with the two nearest people to the ball going out when attacking now become defender.

- Play is rotated until 3 min is up or coach observes players getting tired.
